

Website name: Moda

Description: A blog website where people can post outfit ideas and share fashion advice. The users can share blog posts, comments and search for posts with specific tags. The theme is going to be sleek and clean in order to go well with any aesthetic or style that may be posted by the users. It's a quick and easy way for the users to build an outfit portfolio and to also be inspired by others with the same vibe. The purpose is to create a hub for a community that loves fashion and to unite people with common interests.

Pages:

1. Main Feed
2. About the Website
3. My Blog
4. Search
5. Log In/Sign Up/Account Settings(depending on whether a user is logged in)

Data: There will be an account creation feature where users can sign up, log in, and adjust their profile settings. Users will be able to make posts with tags and all posts will appear on the main feed. The posts will include the user's names. Users will be able to search for tags and all posts with that tag will show up. The users will also be able to comment on each others' posts in order to give advice. There will be a filter for the posts to prevent hate comments, hate speech, or any negative conversation that is not constructive.
